

Custom Leadership Training

Engage, Inspire, Develop

The Process

0
1

Understand your Goals

Discuss what challenges your organization is facing and what your goals are for your employees.

Design a Curriculum

Collaborate to design a custom professional development curriculum for your team.

0
3

Facilitate and Teach

Set the date and deliver the curriculum.

0
2

Facilitator & Presenter

Gabrielle Scrimshaw is an Indigenous professional with a passion for leadership development. She has an MBA from Stanford and is a Fellow at the Center for Public Leadership at Harvard University.

Growing up in a town of 800 people, Gabrielle was raised in a single parent household and is a proud citizen of the Hatchet Lake First Nation. A first generation student, she was named "One of 3 Young Indigenous Canadians to Watch" by the Huffington Post. Over the past decade she has studied international business and policy across 6 continents. Gabrielle is the Co-Founder the Aboriginal Professional Association of Canada, a non-profit organization now considered a global thought leader in Indigenous leadership.

Profiled By

The New York Times

Forbes

Native
Business

Previous Clients

Over the last decade, Gabrielle has presented and facilitated workshops across North America and Europe.

Stanford University

What would you like to achieve?

1

INSPIRE: Keynotes

Inspire your team, organization or community. Based on your needs, we'll create a presentation to inspire and engage your audience.

30-60 minutes

2

ENGAGE: Workshops

Build a hands on learning experience for your organization. Focus can be individual (goal setting) or collective (group problem solving). Activities are selected and facilitated based on your organization's needs.

45-120 minutes per workshop

Keynotes

Highlights

- Inspiration: Gabrielle was born in a remote Indigenous community, raised in a single-parent household and went on to become a first generation student, graduating from Harvard and Stanford
- Leadership: Gabrielle co-founded a national non-profit and became an advocate for Indigenous issues across North America
- Pathways to Success: Sharing her story, Gabrielle will share perspectives on goal setting, education, and overcoming hardship

Sample Workshops

Bringing workshops taught at Harvard and Stanford to your organization. Don't see a workshop you'd like? Inquire! There's a chance we offer it or can custom create it with your goals in mind.

INDIVIDUAL Employees have time to reflect and learn, becoming stronger contributors

- Goal Setting: Create the space to allow employees to set goals, both personal and career
- Feedback: Feedback is important for professional growth and team success. Learn how to ask for and provide others with effective, tangible feedback.

COLLECTIVE Groups work together to learn new skill sets in hands on learning activities

- Team Communication: Show how effective communication leads to stronger outcomes
- Team Problem Solving: Groups solve problems more effectively when working together

A decorative horizontal line with a light blue segment on the left and a dark blue segment on the right, positioned above the main heading.

Ready to bring a world class leadership program to your organization?

Contact Gabrielle to learn more. No commitment necessary.

Email: gabrielle@gabriellescrimshaw.com

Phone: 650-646-8891